BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1952

VOL. 21 - NO. 12

Red Cross Fund Lags

Observations...

By UDELL

Business in the month of January, 1952, showed a pretty big jump over that of January, 1951 in Bay St. Louis. . . Bay-St. Louis had 25.6 per cent more business activity in January than that of a year earlier. . . Bank deposits were up 37.5 per cent. Other increases were: money orders issued, 13.8 per cent; postal receipts, 9.6 per cent; and telephones in service, 6.9 per cent. . . If these first figures for 1952 are indicative of Bay St. Louis' future business activity, everything should be on a steady increase showing the benefits of keeping your money at home where it will do the most good. . .

It's HI HO and OFF THEY GO! Yes, the Girl Scouts will be calling at your door next Wednesday when the annual Cookie Sale gets underway. . . Things will begin popping March 26, which is the "kick-off" day, when the girls start taking orders for Girl Scout cookies in their neighborhoods. . . Proceeds from the sale this year will be used to help pay the girls' expenses to Girl Scout Day Camp at Camp Bernard in June. Don't forget the worthiness of this organization when the girls ring your doorbell. . . These cookies are made especially for the Scouts by one of the largest cookie companies in the United States. . .

Hancock County Tax Assessor Claborn J. Lader wishes to notify everyone that April 1 is the deadline for filing HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION applications. . . These forms are available at the Tax Assessor's office and must be in by April 1, or exemption cannot be allowed. . . File yours today. . .

Did you know that Hancock County's landing field, which won't cost the residents of this area a dime, has never been completed? It will just take about a week to finish the work on the field, according to information received here. . . But, the officials will not complete the job until they have had some sign that the people of the area want the field. . . A representative was here last week and will return in the near future to call a meeting of all interested persons to see if enough interest is shown. . . Here is an opportunity for Hancock County to get something for nothing; it only costs a little interest. . .

Firebugs got loose in the County Sunday. . . A forest fire was started at the head of Main street and others, which were evidently started from burning trash, got underway on Waveland avenue and in Lakeshore. . . The forestry department, fire departments of the Bay and Pass Christian and nearby citizens, through their efforts, were able to get the flames under control and prevent serious damages to nearby homes. . . But, the damage to the young timber can never be restored. . . Money went up in flames. . . Yes, in a few years from now, that timber would bring its owner a good price; but, now what has he to offer. . . Charred trees, stumps, etc. . . Always think twice before throwing a cigarette or match into a wooded area, and when burning trash, watch it and avoid large fires that will start if left alone. . . It's always someone else's property that suffers through carelessness and it's always someone else's money that goes up in smoke. . . BE CAREFUL WITH FIRE IN THE WOODS. . .

The City of Bay St. Louis will be presented a flag in ceremonies at the City Hall today. . . Jeanie and Millie Ling will make the presentation in behalf of Brownie Troop 1 at 3:30 p.m. . . The flag, to be given, draped the coffin of their father, Eugene Ling, a veteran of the Navy, at the time of his burial in 1949. . . The new flag will be raised by Boy Scouts of Troop 208, and the St. Stanislaus band will be on hand to play the Star Spangled Banner. . . The public is invited to attend the ceremony. . .

Schedule Spring Festival For April

Plans are being made by the Mothers' Club of Christ Church Parish School for a spring festival to be held April 26 on the school grounds at 912 South Beach. . .

There will be a program for the children of the school. . . Games, raffles, and other amusements will be provided. . .

Refreshments will be served. . . The festival is open to all. . .

At the half-way point of the 1952 Fund Campaign it is a bit disappointing to report that approximately 20 per cent of the Hancock County quota has been collected, not the 50 that would have been so encouraging to those volunteers, your neighbors, who are ringing your doorbells to ask for your contribution and support. . .

To those 104 blood donors, the 25 or more volunteer staff workers, who, saw the operation of Monday's blood bank, there is a clear realization of what your Red Cross stands for. To any person who may need blood, they have extended that help, have made possible the saving of a life. How many persons in the community have taken the time to figure the cost of this one service of Red Cross? It is your dollars that make it possible. . .

Drop in at the local chapter office, any day, you will find your Executive Secretary busy lending a hand to some veteran, serviceman or some member of his family, easing a problem that you would so readily want to do for him if you had the time and money and the ability. Red Cross does it for you, locally, and in any part of the world where our service men may be. . .

The various volunteer services are busy around the calendar; many of you would like to join with them, but do not have the time. Your dollar contributed to the 1952 campaign fund would make you feel that you, too, are part of its great purpose - neighbor helping neighbor. . .

"Please give just a little bit more, give 'til it hurts, let's all share that nice warm feeling that comes from seeing a job well done, LET'S MEET THAT QUOTA, WE CAN DO THAT," Cyril Glover, fund chairman, urged. . .

Theatre Installs Platoon System

Bay St. Louis' Little Theatre has adopted the platoon system. This is a little different from its application to sports, where different teams are used for offensive and defensive play. . .

In its adaptation by Dr. H. M. Keefe, director, in rehearsals for "The Curious Savage", John Patrick's remarkable comedy, at works on this basis - one group of characters, who have a number of lines to say, is rehearsed on Monday. According to its progress, this group may run through one or more acts of the play during this Monday practice. . .

On Tuesday, another group gets together and rehearses in the same way. Leading characters and others who play with both groups rehearse with each section. For the supporting player or bit player, this platoon system is a good thing; the player does not have to sit through a full-dress rehearsal every night, and the director is not required to work either himself or his cast too hard in "spot rehearsals," that is, rehearsals of one or two players at a time in difficult sequences which later must be tied into the general rehearsal, with the entire cast. The rough spots can be practiced and ironed out with the whole affected group and additional tying in is not necessary. . .

After sufficient time is allowed for learning lines and blocking out action, a period of smoothing out is taken and the groups are gathered together for joint rehearsals. Overlapping parts and sections of scenes are worked out, and there is the play. . .

Collect 104 Pints Of Blood Monday

Mrs. Lucien M. Gex, chairman of the local Red Cross Blood Program Committee, expressed appreciation today to the 104 donors who gave a pint of blood Monday, March 17, when the Red Cross bloodmobile visited Hancock County, and to the many who volunteered but were unable to contribute because of illness. . .

"Our community has amply demonstrated its spirit of cooperation by the response of the individuals and groups to this humanitarian project. I can think of no greater reward for these citizens who donated blood than the thought that their gift will mean life to one of their friends or neighbors here at home," Mrs. Gex said. . .

The chairman acknowledged the chapter's gratitude to those citizens who volunteered to give blood but were temporarily unable to do so and added that the chapter hopes these volunteers will be able to donate during the next visit of the bloodmobile to Hancock County. . .

Chairman Gex, at the same time, expressed her thanks to the volunteer groups of the Red Cross who helped operate the bank efficiently. . .

"We are most grateful for the large turnout of donors," the chairman concluded. "It is gratifying to know that our citizens are behind this far-reaching program which has been designed for the saving of lives. Blood collected here will be for the benefit of patients in our community hospital and other hospitals where residents of Hancock County are confined. There will be absolutely no charge for blood when requested, but there may be the customary laboratory fee of the local hospital and the professional fee of the physician administering the blood." . .

When the bloodmobile visited here in December, 83 pints of blood were donated. It is hoped that upon each visit, the contributions will increase. . .

Stevens Speaks At Farm Bureau Meet

"The Farm Bureau goal is to make farm life a little more attractive for rural people," Boswell Stevens, President of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, stated at Leetown School Tuesday night, March 18, Mississippi, now has a County Farm Bureau organization in every county in Mississippi. Two years ago only 58 of the 82 counties had organizations. . .

The farmers are dependent upon legislation passed in Jackson, and Washington, D. C. The Farm Bureau Federation, representing the rural people, can advise these lawmakers what they want; and, if strong enough, demand that their wants be heard. . .

The organization can also be of great value to the welfare of the county. Organization groups can accomplish what individuals cannot. In every county in Mississippi, needs of the people - such as rural telephone lines, better schools, better roads - and the many other things which make life more attractive are being worked out at community and county meetings. Farm Bureau is a Family Affair. The family joins even though the membership is varied in the husbands name. The husband and wife work jointly as a team in the community and separately - he in his farm organizations and she in the Home Demonstration Clubs and Council, Stevens added. . .

There is another need for the county organization - the State organization needs its support. Good active county groups make the State Farm Bureau Federation stronger. This is being shown in this particular time when the Mississippi Legislature is in session. The Farm Bureau has been active in backing all legislation which the county groups have sent in requesting the State Federation to do so. . .

Mississippi has made progress and will continue to make progress through cooperation and the people working together. The Farm Bureau Federation needs the support of the people as much as the people need the support of the Farm Bureau Federation, the speaker concluded. . .

WOOL GROWERS PLAN MEETING

A meeting of the South Mississippi Wool Growers Association has been called by the President, E. E. Breland for Friday morning, March 28 at 10:00 o'clock at the Court House in Bay St. Louis for the purpose of electing officers for the Association and discussing the sale of the 1952 wool crop. . .

Since the market is slow on opening for the 1952 wool clip, it is not thought advisable at this meeting to sell the wool, but the situation will be discussed and plans made for the sale at a later date. . .

Representatives from some of the wool houses will either be present or wire the latest information they have which will help the Association members to determine future plans for selling. This is an important meeting, and it is hoped that every member of the Association will be present. . .

the late Mr. Connor, who it was stated, sacrificed political gain to get the State of Mississippi back on a financial footing during his term in 1932. At the time, the state was practically bankrupt, and the then governor worked out a successful pattern that was to be adopted in future years by a number of other states.

Mrs. Connor, her daughter and colonels who served on the governor's staff during that time were invited as honorary guests to the memorial service.

Barney Whitfield of Picayune, who served on this staff, and his son, Kenneth R. Whitfield, attended the memorial.

Outlines Farm Program

State College, Miss.—A ten-point program for more than doubling Mississippi's farm income has been outlined by Dr. Fred R. Mitchell, president, Mississippi State College.

He first discussed this program at an agricultural credit clinic for bankers held Monday (March 10) at Brooksville, and was scheduled to appear before five similar groups.

"Our farm marketings in 1949 are reported to have varied in hill counties from $10 to $40 per acre of open land, and in Delta counties from $32 to $79," he pointed out.

"We have much evidence that the low in any county should be at least $50, an acre, at recent prices."

Products sold from fields and pastures can be doubled, and quadrupled in many counties, in the next 10 years, Dr. Mitchell stated. Annual timber cuttings can be three times as much as now.

The program for more production and income, which State College agricultural experts believe practical, follows:

1. A bale of cotton per acre average on about 2,000,000 acres.
2. A 35 bushels per acre corn average on about 2,000,000 acres.
3. Increase production of soybeans, oats, rice, tung nuts, pecans, truck, nursery and greenhouse products, small seed and other crops.
4. Added pasture acreage with double pasture carrying capacity per acre.
5. Multiply silage production several times and double hay production.
6. Increase milk sales 50 percent to supply growing markets.
7. Double the number of cattle sold to 1,000,000 head one year with heavier weight and better quality.

8. Grow and sell an additional 1,000,000 hogs.

9. Produce for sale several times as many eggs as now, to supply this and nearby states instead of importing them from the Midwest.

10. Broiler production, 25,000,000 in 1951, will soon double and may then double again. Mississippi can sell more other chickens, too.

"We judge all this, or the equivalent, can be done with a labor force less than that we now have," Dr. Mitchell declared.

"But in any case it will require better management, a better combination of farm enterprise, more science use of more fertilizers and many agricultural chemicals now available, better breeds of plants and animals, the economical use of labor-saving power and machines, and good marketing.

Uncle Sam Says

Remember—you can carry on safely with this action. "The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy for your country's defense also give you personal financial independence." That will provide money to buy a house, or educate your children, or support you when you retire. You can gamble on this—if you don't save regularly, you don't save at all. So, go to your company's pay office. NOW, and sign up for a regular Defense Bond purchase program through the Payroll Savings Plan.

MARCH 28 - APRIL 1

This program will also require large capital investment, some of it credit.

"So long as the bankers make sound loans on good credit risks, and so long as farmers have the know-how and will follow through on a planned program, we have a great opportunity," Dr. Mitchell declared.

Mississippi Expected To Give MacArthur Huge Welcome

Mississippians for the first time in history will get an opportunity to see and hear one of America's greatest military heroes, General Douglas MacArthur, when he speaks for the first time on state soil to a joint session of the Mississippi legislature in Jackson on Saturday afternoon, March 22nd, at 2 p. m.

The Arkansas born hero of Bataan and leading authority on Far Eastern affairs is expected to attract one of the biggest crowds in Mississippi history upon his arrival in Jackson from New York next Saturday morning via chartered plane.

The general's party, including Mrs. MacArthur and Arthur MacArthur, their son, members of the press and the general's aides, Gen. Courtney Whitney and Colonel Lawrence Bunker, will arrive at the Municipal Airport at 10:30, where they will be met by Governor Hugh L. White, Mrs. White and Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson, and legislative representatives.

Following a 17-gun salute and other appropriate military honors accorded him as he steps from his plane, the General will be escorted by motorcade through Livingston Park, east on Capitol Street to the main thoroughfare where he will join a four-section parade in his honor.

The popular general accepted an invitation last month to speak before the joint assembly after details were worked out by a joint committee headed by Representative Joe Hopkins of Claiborne and Harvey Ross, also of Coahoma County, co-authors of the idea.

The parade honoring MacArthur will move up Capitol Street at 11:30 in front of four sections including members of the legislature, state officials, veterans organizations, numerous state bands, and former Mississippi members of the Armed Services who have served under General MacArthur's command. Accompanied by Governor White, the general's car will move along the entire route of the parade to the Old Capitol, north to Mississippi St., west to the new Capitol Building at 2 p. m. to the joint legislative session and the thousands of persons expected to be on hand to hear him. A battery of loudspeakers has been set up on the Capitol grounds to help carry his message to all present.

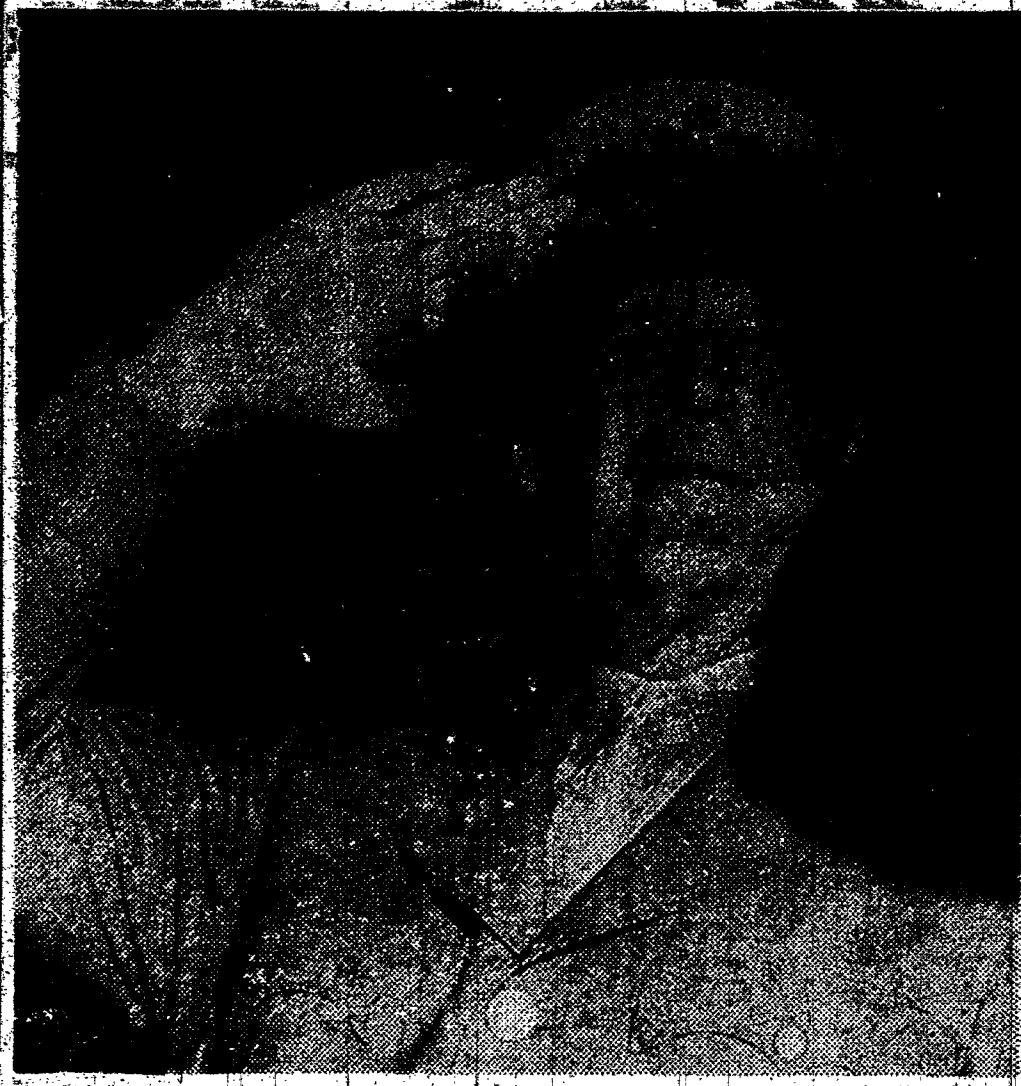

MacArthur, a strong advocate of state government, will speak from a platform on the steps of the new Capitol Building at 2 p. m. to the joint legislative session and the thousands of persons expected to be on hand to hear him. A battery of loudspeakers has been set up on the Capitol grounds to help carry his message to all present.

The program also will be broadcast over a state-wide network and will possibly be carried over national radio networks.

In the event of rain arrangements have been made by the joint legislative committee for MacArthur to speak at the City Auditorium.

Special provisions also have been made by the committee to permit the transportation of school children in school buses to Jackson for the momentous event.

Following his address, General MacArthur's party will fly to Natchez to attend an evening presentation of the Pilgrimage Tableaux and Confederate Ball, a colorful feature of the annual March pilgrimage which this year has so far attracted record attendance.

The popular general accepted an invitation last month to speak before the joint assembly after details were worked out by a joint committee headed by Representative Joe Hopkins of Claiborne and Harvey Ross, also of Coahoma County, co-authors of the idea.

The parade honoring MacArthur will move up Capitol Street at 11:30 in front of four sections including members of the legislature, state officials, veterans organizations, numerous state bands, and former Mississippi members of the Armed Services who have served under General MacArthur's command. Accompanied by Governor White, the general's car will move along the entire route of the parade to the Old Capitol, north to Mississippi St., west to the new Capitol Building at 2 p. m. to the joint legislative session and the thousands of persons expected to be on hand to hear him. A battery of loudspeakers has been set up on the Capitol grounds to help carry his message to all present.

MacArthur, a strong advocate of state government, will speak from a platform on the steps of the new Capitol Building at 2 p. m. to the joint legislative session and the thousands of persons expected to be on hand to hear him. A battery of loudspeakers has been set up on the Capitol grounds to help carry his message to all present.

The program also will be broadcast over a state-wide network and will possibly be carried over national radio networks.

In the event of rain arrangements have been made by the joint legislative committee for MacArthur to speak at the City Auditorium.

Special provisions also have been made by the committee to permit the transportation of school children in school buses to Jackson for the momentous event.

Following his address, General MacArthur's party will fly to Natchez to attend an evening presentation of the Pilgrimage Tableaux and Confederate Ball, a colorful feature of the annual March pilgrimage which this year has so far attracted record attendance.

GIRL SCOUTS ENJOY WALKING TOUR MONDAY

The girls from Scout Troop No. 1 met immediately after school Monday and went with their leader, Miss Adele Bielenberg, on a walking tour up East Second Street. Following the walk, the girls went to Memorial Park for a picnic. Molly Barksdale treated the group to cookies and candies. Among those participating in the walking tour were Mary Ruby Kalif, Molly Barksdale, Kaye DeMetz, Barbara Allen, Patsy Kimball, Judy Tipping, Elaine Noto, Brenda Abley, Dianne Jeffcoat and Lillie Bourdin.

On Thursday afternoon the Girl Scouts met again and enjoyed another of Mrs. Keller's square dance lessons.

MIDGET VEGETABLE SEEDS APPEAL TO CHILD GARDENERS

Parents faced with the problem of small back-yard space and energetic would-be-farmers will welcome the news of "Midget Vegetable" seeds. These seeds are top quality and produce tiny green beans, Tom-Thumb lettuce - little tennis ball sized heads just right for individual salads; midget sweet corn, tender and flavorful with stalks only 2 1/2 feet high; producing ears about 4 inches long; Tiny-Tim tomatoes having plants that are 15 inches tall at maturity with tomatoes less than one inch in size; baby cucumber with bushy vines and four inch vegetables; and midget watermelons only eight inches long when ready to pick.

Joe Ebert Allen who is six years old and a first grader has just planted a midget garden. Seeds for his garden and complete instructions were sent by his great aunt, Mary E. Hart, of Houston, Texas. Joe Ebert is an enthusiastic gardener and will be happy to pass along information to any one interested about where midget vegetable seeds may be purchased.

PUBLIC SCHOOL GETS TYPHOID VACCINE

On Thursday, March 20, the public health nurse for Harrison County Health Department, was busy at the Pass Christian Public School giving typhoid vaccine as a protection against typhoid fever. Children were given a choice: three weekly injections at least every three years or three weekly injections one year followed by one injection each year thereafter. The Pass Christian County Health office is open every Thursday afternoon and anyone wishing to receive typhoid vaccine injections is urged to come to the office.

Another excellent service given gratis by the County Health Department is examination for detection of the presence of worms.

In this climate and locality children, especially pre-school and grade school children, are frequent hosts to these parasites. It is possible for children with worms to infect other children through use of public school toilets; the handling of pencils, books, etc., by a child whose hands or finger-nails may harbor worm-eggs. Parents should watch their children carefully at this season of year for symptoms of worms and are encouraged to take advantage of the facilities of the County Health Department in detection and treatment of pin-worms, stomach worms, hook worms or tape worms.

GARDEN CLUB VIEWS WILD FLOWER DRAWINGS OF MRS. J. C. CRANE

When the Pass Christian Garden Club met last Thursday, Mrs. John C. Crane of Gulfport discussed wild flowers native to the Mississippi Gulf Coast and to the Southlands. Mrs. Crane illustrated her discussion by showing a great number of drawings which she had made of typical wild flowers found in this area.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE HEADED BY MRS. MORSE

At this meeting a nominating committee for selecting candidates for Garden Club officers was appointed. Mrs. Stamford Morse Sr., is chairman of this committee and serving with her are: Miss Jane Robinson, W. A. Kuhn, Lynn Cook, E. A. Lang and A. B. Tipping. Officers to be selected are: president, vice president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, treasurer and parliamentarian.

APRIL 17 NEXT GARDEN CLUB MEETING

The Garden Club will meet in the Trinity Episcopal Parish House on Thursday, April 17. Normally the club meets on the second Thursday of each month; however, the date of April 17 was set because a religious holiday falls on the regular meeting day.

PASS GARDEN CLUB TO PRESENT JESSE THORP

The auditorium of the Pass High School will be open at 8:00 p. m. April 19, when the Pass Christian Garden Club will present Miss Jesse Thorp of New Orleans who will give a dramatic entertainment. Proceeds from this benefit performance will go to the Research Cancer and Polio Fund of New York Botanical Garden.

Plants, flowers and shrubs, it appears, have their own varieties of cancer. New York Botanical Gardens hopes, through research, to discover a cure for ailing plants. Some members of the Pass Christian Garden Club have brought specimens of plant life believed to be suffering from cancer to the meetings.

SHRIMP BOAT ATTRACTION ON GARDEN PILGRIMAGE

Most garden lovers know about the shrimp plant, but Benny French Jr. cooked his shrimp boat in the Pass Harbor so that Pilgrimage visitors might go aboard his vessel and have their questions answered about the operation of shrimp boats in these waters. It was an interesting and highly original sidelight to the well planned tour of homes and gardens.

here in connection with the Gulf Coast Garden Pilgrimage.

With typical Southern Hospitality, a fleet of automobiles lined up in front of the Miramar Hotel Friday to give free transportation and information to anyone who wished to participate in Pass Christian's part of the Garden Pilgrimage. Garden Club chairmen were Mrs. C. R. Jones Jr. and Mrs. Richard Hupp.

Prominent among the show places on the tour was the naturalistic garden of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Smith at 1102 West Beach, and the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Hancock as well as the home and garden of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hammet.

The Pass Christian Yacht Club featured a historical exhibit of much interest to those on tour, and the St. Paul's Catholic Church on East Beach welcomed many visitors.

Pass Christian gardens, generally were in beautiful condition and it would be difficult to say what phase of the Pilgrimage received the limelight. Surely, the old bronze Buddha, now approximately 200 years old, to be found in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hecht, created much interest.

Ossian Hall, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert DeBen, was a delight both to the lover of fine furniture and fine building design. Formerly known as the "Old Miltenberger Place," the house became important in a scene of a silent movie picture days, when Marguerite Clark starred in "Come Out of the Kitchen." This film was made in 1919. The house is a large two story structure with fine masonry columns supporting the portico. It was erected in 1849 by Hon. Seth Guion.

The Trinity Episcopal Church, now 103 years old, is becoming as well-known as the "Little Church Around the Corner."

Pass Christian was a proud hostess to the Pilgrimage visitors, and guest books showed that many came from all the far corners.

Mr. John David is now employed in Pascagoula.

Paul Torgeson of New Orleans visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Torgeson Sr., this weekend.

A. J. Lind is an addition to the ever increasing list of Commuters to New Orleans.

Glad to Pay our Way!

Nobody enjoys paying taxes. But no good citizen tries to get out of paying his fair share.

That's how Gulf feels about the more than $1,300,000.00 it paid in property, production, income and other taxes in Mississippi in 1951. (Plus almost $5-million Gulf collects and pays each year in state and county gasoline, state kerosene, and state and city sales and use taxes.)

And, Gulf adds substantially to Mississippi's economic progress in many other ways. Gulf spent over $13-million dollars in Mississippi in 1951—new money put in circulation that turned over many times—benefitting all Mississippians.

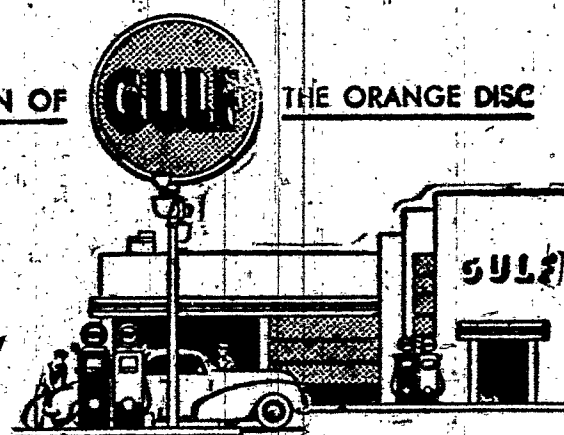

What about the future? Gulf believes in Mississippi. One example is Gulf's seismic survey, now in progress, of Mississippi's 800,000 coastal acres to be followed by the drilling of the state's first off-shore well. Other examples include Gulf's leases in 43 of the state's 82 counties and Gulf's present extensive exploration program.

Gulf feels that its taxes, payrolls, royalties, rentals and purchases of materials and supplies have helped Mississippi grow and prosper. Gulf also feels that the continued sound development of the state's oil and gas resources will help bring more opportunities for a better life to all the people of Mississippi.

Congressional Sidelights

by Congressman Wm. McColmer

Washington, always the nerve center of national politics, has been stirred into an excitable nervous tension the past week as the result of the New Hampshire primaries. The fact that General Eisenhower, even though absent in Europe, while his aggressive opponent toured New Hampshire in person, resoundingly defeated Taft was no great surprise. But the fact that the "Upstart", Kefauver, the liberal Southerner of TV fame, cleaned President Truman's plow was a horse of another color. The pre-campaign term of "eyewash" of that primary, by President Truman, was of little comfort to the President and his Fair Deal boys, once the New Hampshire snowstorms were over-leaving a trail of slush and mud for the President. Neither were Kefauver's repeated statements in the wake of the storm, that the results were not a repudiation of the President and the "Fair Deal", of much comfort to the President and his advisors. The fact remained that a President of the United States for the first time in the history of the country was unable to lead the ticket in a Democratic Presidential Primary. And, that, too, in a state where the party is the minority party and where that party is controlled by the state organization and the patronage seeking boys.

All in all it was a bad setback for the President. The fact that the primary was nothing more than a straw vote so far as the election of the next President is concerned and was therefore within itself unimportant, nevertheless leaves the psychological effect tremendously important.

There are those of the political wiseheads around Washington who say that the President cannot now afford to accept the nomination, which all agree he can have for the asking, but there is another school who argue that he cannot afford to accept the nomination and run. The latter argue that the disastrous results in New Hampshire were attributable to other factors and do not represent the true sentiment of the Democrats over the country. They say that the President's wisest act when he first refused to permit his name to be entered in that primary to the effect that it was just so much "eyewash" was resented by the New Hampshire voters in the first place, and in the second place Kefauver was the recipient of an inadvertent buildup by his Republican colleague on the crime investigating committee, Senator Tobey of New Hampshire.

Moreover, it is argued by the White House advisors and those who would profit by keeping their jobs by a Truman reelection that there is no one else in the party with sufficient nation-wide appeal to be elected. Therefore, it is the duty of Mr. Truman, as the party leader, to make the fact whether he personally desires to do so or not. They eliminate Kefauver on the ground that he is a freshman, that he would be unable to carry the South because of his FEPC and other left wing views. But more than that he is personally obnoxious to the President.

On the other hand these President makers eliminate Senator Russell because he is a Southerner. They admit that he is capable and qualified. But that his leadership in the Senate of the Southern Bloc on civil rights and other matters would alienate the Northern Negro and other minority groups upon which the Democratic Party has depended for the past decade or more.

Senator Douglas is eliminated because he also has offended President Truman by helping to expose graft and corruption in the RFC and other government agencies.

Governor Stevenson, also of Illinois, a favorite of the President's, is not nationally known. There

Services Held For Mrs. C. Bokenfohr

Mrs. Caroline Doerr Bokenfohr, 90, died in New Orleans Thursday, March 13, at 1:15 p. m. Mrs. Bokenfohr, who was the widow of Joseph B. Bokenfohr, was a native of New Orleans.

Funeral services were held from her late residence, 5930 Laurel street, Friday, March 14, at 10:00 a. m., followed by a requiem High Mass at St. Francis of Assisi church. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

The deceased was the mother of Charles J. Rosa and Libby Bokenfohr, Mrs. David C. Dupre of Bay St. Louis, and the late William E. and Eugene L. Bokenfohr and Mrs. Katherine Bokenfohr Apple. She is also survived by four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Lt. (jg) H. Kiefer Partakes In Navy Mock War Cruise

Along with other crewmen serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Toledo, Lt. (jg) Hugh M. Kiefer, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank I. Kiefer, of 131 Carroll avenue, Bay St. Louis, and husband of Mrs. Frances S. Kiefer, of 519 Kentucky avenue, Bogalusa, La., recently participated in the largest Pacific Fleet training exercises held since the Korean outbreak.

The exercises, called "Lex Baker One," took place off the coast of Southern California. Over 70 ships and 15,000 men of the Navy and the newly activated 3rd Marines participated.

Reality was added to the mock war games by assuming that lower California and several islands off the coast had been captured by an "aggressor" enemy. The Navy's problem was the retaking of the enemy-held islands through amphibious assaults.

Ships of all types were used in the exercises including submarines and aircraft carriers.

"Aggressor" submarines and planes made repeated "attacks" in harassing the task force, adding even more reality to the operation.

There have also been suggestions of his being connected with the Chicago City Machine and the fact that he is divorced is not regarded as a political asset.

Vice-President Barkley is likewise "in" because of his age, although he continues to hope that the political lightning will yet strike.

With Chief Justice Fred Vinson having eliminated himself from the scene and speaker Sam Rayburn, a personal friend of the President's, being counted out because he is too Southern and because it is not thought that he could disquiet the Southern rebellion, the wise boys conclude that the President must continue the fight and lead the ticket; that his popularity with the liberals, the minority groups, and his foreign policy can, come November, again turn the tide even as it turned the tide in the low stages of the Administration's popularity in 1948. The President has promised an answer to this question when he returns from his Key West vacation next month.

County Agent's Notes

Concentrate Cotton On Best Land

By HOWARD SIMMONS

COTTON

ECONOMY. For more economical yields per acre, don't plant more acres to cotton than you can get financed to handle and repay after you have sold your cotton. Plant only the acreage that you can handle with the equipment that you have or the labor that is available for cultivating and harvesting. Do not over plant and bid against your neighbor for hoeing and harvesting laborers.

Concentrate your cotton on the best cotton land available. A deep, well-drained soil with a fair amount of organic matter content is desirable. It should respond to higher rates of fertilizer and good management.

Hills area cotton fields should be terraced to control rate of water flow. In low areas, row arrangement and ditching should be set up to give good drainage.

Fertilize properly. If in doubt about the fertilizer needs of your soil, have a soil test made.

Plant seed of high germination. Have yours tested now, and delint and treat before planting.

Buy at least part of the needed insecticide now. Poisoning, done right, pays profits.

Now is the time to buy your fertilizers. It may be too late later. Remember $1 in vested in fertilizer pays $10 in return on good land under good management.

INSECTS

Thrips are expected to increase on oats, cover crops and clovers during the mild winter. They will be ready to move to cotton fields after these crops mature in the spring.

Cutworms and other caterpillars are likely to be numerous this spring.

Insurance. The best insurance against insect damage in the cotton field is properly applied insecticides based on insect population of the fields. Buy at least part of your insecticide at the time you buy fertilizer.

PASTURES

Reminders. Unfertilized pastures on moss, land will not give high production of grass and clover. Available labor can be spread over a larger acreage in pastures than in any other crop. Use fertilizer as a labor saver in 1952. Make plans now to mow every pasture this year.

Don't overgraze any pasture. Either give more area or more livestock to another pasture. If you have too much clover grazing, save some for seed. Vis.

your agricultural Experiment Station and keep up with all new pasture information.

STOP INFLATION

Grow more, conserve more, eat more and waste less. Grow a year round home garden in 1952, not just a spring garden. Have something green from the home garden every month during the year.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

The amount of money available from State and Federal sources for the Welfare Program determines more than anything else the regulations necessary in order that it may be distributed fairly to the old people, the children, blind people and unemployed in need. In other words, with a large appropriation of the conditions under which anyone may be given help will not have to be so strict as with a smaller amount of money.

The money now being used by the Welfare Department was appropriated two years ago by the Legislature and will have to last until July 1 of this year. During that time the cost of living has risen but the amount of money is the same, and will be for the next few months.

Livestock Judging Contest Scheduled

State College, Miss. — The Southeastern Livestock Judging Contest will be held at Mississippi State College May 2, according to George Reid of the animal husbandry department. Approximately eight teams from Southeastern college are expected to compete.

The Mississippi State College team, which placed first at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago last fall, will play host to the visitors, but will not compete.

"It is customary for the hosts not to compete in these contests, since they would have an advantage in being familiar with the animals to be judged," commented Coach Reid.

16,532,500 ACRES OF FOREST LAND ASSURES STATE OF LUMBER LEADERSHIP

Lumber products of the Magnolia State were valued at more than $300,000,000 in 1951. The lumber industry ranks first as the state's largest employer of labor with 68,000 people earning more than $200,000,000 annually. And modern conservation laws make sure that Mississippi forests will never be denuded.

ANOTHER SIGNPOST OF PROGRESS in the Magnolia State is the growth of the beer industry, due to the increased public acceptance of legally-regulated beer as the beverage of moderation.

AZALEAS & CAMELLIAS - Now is the time to look after both of these plants. Both are acid requiring plants, and should be fertilized shortly after blooming. We recommend Azalea and Camellia Vigoro. Some folks like 5-10-5 and cottonseed meal, and this mixture is also very good. Soak fertilizer in bed and mulch well with oak leaves.

PECAN TREES - Use 5-10-5 now at rate of one pound for each year of age of tree. For large trees of unknown age, a good guess is twenty five to thirty. Can be applied by hand scattering around tree as far out as branches extend. Then turn it in with a light rake.

Another method is to drill four holes around tree, halfway between trunk and end of branches. Divide fertilizer among four holes, put about six to twelve inches deep and cover with dirt.

LAWNS - Apply 5-10-5 or regular type Vigoro. Scatter well by hand or with dispenser. Soak well.

DISCUSS UNITED GAS JUNIOR LEADERSHIP CONTESTS

Miss Elaine Massey (left) and E. E. Deen (right), district agents for the Southeast Extension District, are shown discussing the 4-H Club 1952 Mississippi Junior Leadership Program with R. O. Monahan, state 4-H Club leader, at a recent conference at Starkville, Miss. The program is sponsored by United Gas in cooperation with the Mississippi State Extension Service.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—The 4-H Club 1952 Mississippi Junior Leadership Program is moving ahead at an accelerated pace in the Southeast Mississippi Extension District, according to reports by District Agents following a statewide meeting in Starkville. The program is sponsored by United Gas in cooperation with the Mississippi State Extension Service.

Southwest Extension District Agent E. E. Deen and District Agent Elaine Massey, in charge of women's work, attended the State College conference at which support for leadership program progress was discussed.

"We feel the program is well advanced in our district," Deen said. "The program is especially important and helpful because it catches the young people at an early stage, when they have so much time ahead of them to put their training into practice."

Miss Massey also was enthusiastic about the 1952 leadership program, declaring, "This program gives the 4-H Clubbers a chance for actual participation in

Simmons Shows Movies To Clubs

Howard F. Simmons, County Agent, showed movies of scenes throughout his tour of the States at a meeting of the Hancock County Home Demonstration Council March 15 at the R. E. A. building. Mrs. T. P. Clapp opened the session with a devotional, followed by the introduction of a new member, represented by their president, Mrs. E. C. Weston of the newly formed Kiln Home Demonstration club.

Members were asked to remain an additional day this year at the Home and Farm program, April 21 through April 25, at Mississippi State college in order to attend the festival.

There will be five classes in which cotton dressers may be entered; winners from Hancock County will represent the group at the Farm and Home program.

Education topics at the clubs for the month of April will be Difference in living and home life since 1900, and the improvements which make for better living and a more enjoyable family life.

All clubs are invited to take active part in the window displays to be used during National Home Demonstration Week, April 27 to May 3. Prizes will be awarded for the best display.

A budget for the coming year and various projects were arranged and it was announced that the Council will award a prize for best secretary book of the year.

The Bay-Waveland Home Demonstration club served as hostesses for this meeting. Those attending were Mesdames J. P. Rousseau, T. P. Clapp, E. C. Weston, O. V. Moran, Wallace Chevis, Harvard Burleigh, J. L. Salecho, H. C. Fuchs, Abee, P. Hayes, F. Wood, C. St. Amant, M. Buppel, G. W. Tucker and Allen Simmons, mother of County Agent Simmons, who was a guest of the Council.

Speaking to "mothers, fathers, and other responsible citizens" in a radio address last Saturday, March 15, in Jackson, State Health Officer Felix J. Underwood called on these Mississippians "personally and immediately to inform your legislators whether you want to continue the effective public health services now supplied in this state." He stated that the individual citizen and his elected officials have the responsibility for financing public health services and that the adequacy of financial support determines the quantity and quality of these services.

Pointing out that the cost of health protection has increased just as other costs have, Dr. Underwood stated that present public health services can be continued during the next two years only with an adequate increase in state appropriations for health protection. Services formerly available with appropriations amounting to about $90 per capita now require $150 to $200 per capita, (all funds state and local).

Increased cost of materials and supplies (smallpox vaccine, for instance, went up 60 per cent in cost last August), higher cost of travel for employees and the need for higher salaries for these employees, who must meet the rising cost of living, are major reasons for the need of a larger appropriation, the state health officer said.

Stating that public health services in a state are what the people want and demand, Dr. Underwood enumerated some of the services Mississippians expect and receive from their state and local health departments. Those include sanitary supervision of public and private food production and food service and of milk, water, and meat supplies; sewerage systems, and swimming pools for protection against various diseases; laboratory diagnosis of bloods, sputum, human feces, and other specimens; manufacture and distribution of rabies, typhoid, smallpox, tetanus, and whooping cough vaccines, diphtheria antitoxin, measles serum, silver nitrate for protection of the eyes of the newborn, and other biologics; mass x-rays to discover tuberculosis and the treatment of cases at the State Sanatorium; mass blood testing to discover syphilis and the treatment of these patients; and health department services that have helped to reduce drastically the maternal and infant death rates.

"Any let-up in these or other public health services would reduce the amount and adequacy of public health protection, Dr. Underwood continued. "A less effective program would mean the general return of many preventable diseases—an increase in sickness, suffering and death in our state. This reduction in health service need not occur, however, if you will let the Legislature know you want continued the health protection you now have. Your wishes in the matter will determine whether the Legislature will appropriate the reasonable increase requested by the State Board of Health."

Legislative Views

By WALTER JAMES PHILLIPS

The past week of the legislative session saw quite a bit of action on the floor of the House, and resulted in the passing of some major legislation, and the killing of some others.

A Senate concurrent resolution which would amend the Constitution of the State of Mississippi to change the age requirement for voting from 21 years to 18 years met with defeat on the floor of the House of Representatives after much debate. Much of the opposition came from those folks who still believe that the 18 year old person is not yet fully matured to such an extent that he or she could intelligently cast their vote. Your Representative took a contrary view to this position and voted to extend the vote to the 18 year old, it being the belief of your Representative that these persons are fully capable of casting a vote in an intelligent manner, and would, in many instances, be more conscientious than the older voters.

A series of Bills designed to curb cattle stealing in the State of Mississippi passed with very little opposition. The first of these bills would provide for the addition of nine persons to the investigators now employed for the purpose of enforcing the laws relative to the larceny of livestock, poultry and agricultural products. For the past biennium, only two of these special investigators have been employed by the State. Their record for arrests and convictions have been quite impressive, as have been the amount of stolen property which they have recovered, and it is because of their demonstrated efficiency that your Representative cast his vote, to increase the number of these investigators.

The other Bill provided for a method whereby the brands of stock owners might be registered with the Secretary of State. This would insure a uniform system, and would make it possible for stolen stock to be more easily recovered.

The old age assistance program came up for debate before the House, as a result of some bills introduced which would change some of the regulations which govern the awarding of these benefits. A bill passed the House, which would eliminate from the regulations the requirement that holds that children are financially responsible for the assistance of their parents, after the children are shown to make over a certain amount of money a month, and it was believed by many, including your Representative, that this regulation is inflexible in nature, and in many instances works a considerable hardship upon the old folks. Since there is no present legal obligation for the children to take care of their old parents, it was believed that this might be an unfair regulation. Since the passage of this Bill, however it has been disclosed that some of the figures used in the argument of this proposition might be erroneous, and that the total result would be, instead of helping increase the old age benefits, that it would result in an overall decrease because of the fact that so many persons who are not deserving of being on the rolls, would in fact, be placed thereon. The result of this would be to spread the appropriations thin, and reduce the average amount of award to the sum of $12.00. This, of course, is not the intention of the Legislature, as the vast majority of the members thereof firmly believe that it is necessary to increase these benefits as much as the State is financially able. As a result of the confusion arising out of the figures which were presented to the House, a Bill which would increase the maximum benefits from $30.00 to $50.00 was laid on the table until further study of this Bill can be made. Your Representative is informed that Governor White had a conference with Mr. Bond, Director of the State Public Welfare Service, and that Mr. Bond is to furnish the Governor with some definite figures concerning the effect of the provision that would eliminate the financial responsibility of children in connection with the amount of persons which will be added to the roll, and the subsequent average award which would result therefrom. Your Representative intends to make a further study of this situation and he further intends to cast his vote for whatever system which would enable those old folks who are in need to get on the rolls of the Welfare Department for old age assistance, and further that this award to be given to them would be an increase over the amount presently received by these people. It is your Representative's belief that these awards should be based solely on the basis of need, and regulations which work injustices should be eliminated.

Much has been said concerning rural telephone development, especially in this County. In connection with this, your Representative has been informed that the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company, in the near future, will make telephone facilities available to those persons living in the Leetown, Caesar region.

This past week of the Legislature was involved mainly in the passage of appropriation Bills. Foremost among these bills was a $50,000,000 appropriation for the schools of Mississippi. This is reported previously as a compromise figure which is approximately $5,000,000.00 above the budget estimate, and some $6,000,000.00 below the minimum foundation program as recommended by the Citizens Committee.

A resolution has been passed, however, which would authorize the appointment of a recess committee to study the education problem, and to report back to the Legislature with a recommendation based upon their findings. It is believed that this Committee will work out some solution to the school problem which will be satisfactory to all.

Another resolution passed the House during the past week, this being to form a recess committee to study the old age assistance program. This resolution, however, was amended to include the whole Public Welfare Department. This is a major undertaking, and it is believed that when a Special Session is called to take care of the education problem, that this problem will also be included in that Session.

A noteworthy Bill was passed during the past week's session, which would require the Welfare Department not to consider the first $50.00 earned by any blind person in determining the assistance to be given them by the Welfare Department. This Bill will correct many injustices that are now worked upon some blind persons who are able to earn a small amount, but who are not able to earn enough to live on.

The bill authorizing the Highway Commission to convey to the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, a portion of the present bridge across the Bay of St. Louis has come out of Committee, and is now placed upon the calendar. Although this Bill is at the foot of the calendar at the present time, it is the intention of your Representative to ask permission of the House to take this Bill up out of order, in order that we may be sure that this Bill will pass during this session of the Legislature. A Communication has been received from Congressman William Colmer, to the effect that the Engineers have been informed of this situation, and that steps are being taken by them to investigate this problem to see what can be worked out. A deadline of March 21st has been set for the introduction of any new Bills. It is therefore anticipated that this session of the Legislature will not extend beyond the middle of April. However, since the major problem of redistricting the State into six congressional districts instead of the present seven must be solved, and this might lead to much discussion and controversy, and extend the session longer than is anticipated.

During the past week, the Senate attempted to take up one Bill which would redistrict the State into six congressional districts. However, this Bill was recommitted to the Rules Committee, when a great deal of controversy arose on the floor. The House has not as yet considered any Bill which deals with the redistricting problem, but a Bill dealing with this will, in all probability, come out of the Committee within a short time.

Morreale Tries For S. L. C. Lineup

Hammond, La., March 21—An untied and inexperienced Southern Louisiana College baseball team opens its 1952 home season in New Orleans Friday, when Coach Pat Kenelly's Green and Gold squad plays the strong Tulane Greenies.

With only one experienced player and several reserves back from last season, Kenelly will be using freshmen and untied prospects at most positions. Veteran of the Lion nine is Lou Campos, all-Gulf States Conference fielder in '51. Reserves competing for the starting lineup include Pitchers

E. F. Ledet, Thibodeaux, and F. O. "Red" Chaney of Baton Rouge; Catchers Joe Andrew of Mayport, Fla., and Robert Meneses of Taunton, Mass., and Second Baseman Jake Morreale of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Newcomers who have been looking good in the early practices are Pitchers, Walt Andrew of Mayport, Fla., and Louis Cook of New Orleans; first base, Norman Stafford of Franklinton, Hubert Polk of Clinton; and James Mitchell of West Frankfort, Ill. Second base, Ray Campagna of Metairie; third base, Jerry Scoggin of Slidell and Eddie Kostello of Gretna; Short stop, Jerry Solomon of New Orleans; and right fielder, Joe Johnson of Headland, Ala.

Kenelly probably will do some doubling in brass; with Ledet, Chaney, and Meneses playing the outfield, as well as pitching or catching.

Other Green and Gold tilts on the card for the near future are games with the Ponchartrou Athletics, March 23, and a two-game series with southwestern Louisiana Institute March 25-26. The Lions will also play a regular schedule in the southern division of the GSC.

Home on Vacation

Rome, Georgia—March 15—John Weston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Weston of Bay St. Louis will be home for spring holidays, March 15 - 25, from Darlington school.

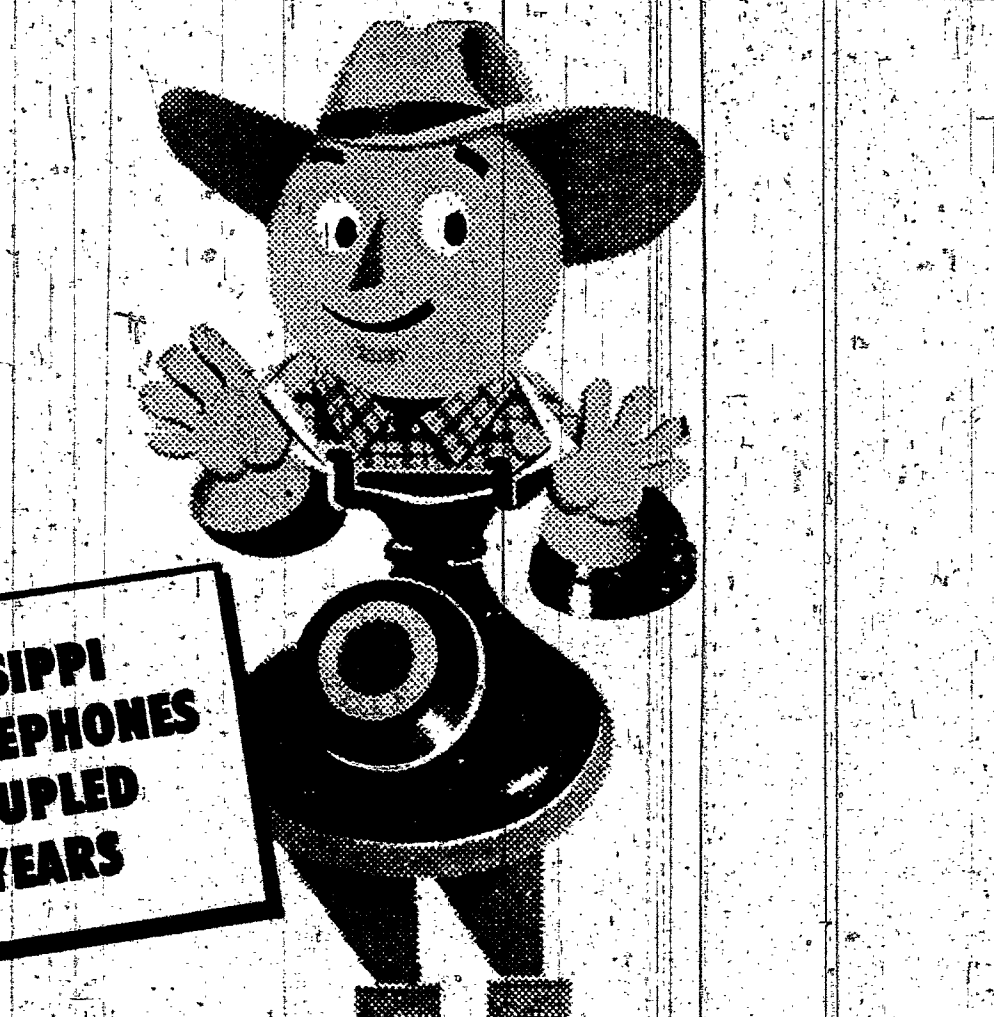

Darlington is a non-military preparatory school which operates a full year-round program. Dr. C. R. Wilcox is president and Dr. E. L. Wright is headmaster.

Watch Rural Telephones Grow!

Mississippi telephones are more valuable now than six years ago... One big reason is there are twice as many of them: 236 thousand now compared with 116 thousand then. You can call many more people and many more can call you.

During those six years, our rural telephones have quadrupled—rising from $333 in 1945 to more than 36,000 today!

This year, growing rural Mississippi will require thousands more new telephones and continued heavy construction of facilities to make them possible. As in the past, money for this new work must be obtained from investors. That's why it is necessary that telephone rates be sufficient to assure earnings that are attractive to people with savings to invest.

LAKESHORE

MRS. MALCOLM B. GREEN

Once again the American Red Cross has come to the aid of Lakeshore and its citizens. In a few months Mr. and Mrs. George Eusich and family will be able to move back into their rebuilt home thanks to the Red Cross. The barns have been repaired and roofs put on other homes damaged the night of February 14. In September of 1947 following the disastrous hurricane the Red Cross setup a food kitchen in Gulfview lunch room. For two weeks people were served, hot meals, clothes were distributed, groceries were supplied to those who still had cooking facilities, home were rebuilt, furniture replaced, chickens and livestock replaced, and this was all made possible by the contributions of people like ourselves to the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Martha Garcia and daughter Melanie entertained a group of relatives and friends from Biloxi Saturday and Sunday.

Happy birthday to Malcolm B. Green Jr., who was two years old, Friday, March 21. Little Malcolm and his playmates were entertained with a television party at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. L. Villimil.

Norvine Kelly of Pearlington is employed now by the marine exploration company of Houston, Texas.

Last Tuesday Mr. L. Villimil left to go to Cuba after a two week vacation spent in Lakeshore. He was accompanied to the ship by Mrs. Villimil, Mrs. Malcolm Green, Irvin Green Jr., Louise and Malcolm Green Jr.

Mrs. Sidonia La Fontaine has received word from De Funiak Springs, Florida, that her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Barr is ill.

Mrs. Eugene Jackson and baby daughter, Clair, have returned home after spending several months in the Panama Canal Zone.

Jeff Bosarge has almost completely recovered from his long illness and is now staying at home again.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. James Morsage motored to Hattiesburg to see Mrs. Bosarge's mother and bring her back to Lakeshore for a week's visit.

Newcomers to our community, Mr. and Mrs. Neely are repairing the Mulvey place.

Our apologies to Mrs. Elizabeth Courage, who celebrated her 87th birthday March 1 and not her 80th as was previously mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimshaw Favre of New Orleans are redecorating the old Charles Green place.

These warm spring days the fish have been biting and Bordage Brothers, Mouth of the Bayou, Wm. Spence and Son, Paz La France and Sportmen's Lakes are all ready for a big season.

Forest fires once again struck our community Saturday afternoon and night. Due to the hard work of Milton Stoutfield and his crew and the Rocky Hill fire crew, no homes were damaged, but the damage to young saplings can never be erased.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Strickland and son of Chalmette, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green.

A group of members of the Lakeshore Civic Association will give a benefit dance Saturday night, March 22, for baby Audie Stoufflet, who has a serious eye condition and is reported to be in danger of losing his sight unless an eye operation is performed. Music will start at 8 p. m. with refreshments and cakes being sold. Donations, ladies 25c; gentlemen, 50c.
